James Suckling 94pt. Barolo!

Why We're Drinking It

Brothers Massimo and Ezio Negretti own prime stretches of vineyard in Roddi, La Morra and Monforte, and make powerful, classically-styled, ageable wines from their winery near La Morra. The container full of their awesome '15s just landed here in Napa and we started popping corks. The Mirau bottling, from two separate crus in La Morra (Rive and Bettolotti) has an intense and multifaceted aromatic spectrum. The core is soft and polished through a beautiful acid-tannic balance with depth and complexity. Cherries, rose, incense, Asian spices, even citrus...as we said, tons going on here and you get something different with every sip. A wine for the ages!

James Suckling, 94 points: "Fresh and caressing red with cherries, strawberries and hints of cedar on the nose and palate. Medium to full body, fine, chewy tannins and a flavorful finish. Drink from 2022.

Wine Enthusiast, 91 points: "Fresh mint, red berry and underbrush aromas emerge from the glass. The full-bodied palate delivers raspberry jam, licorice and clove alongside fine-grained tannins and fresh acidity. Drink 2022–2029."
