2017 Lost & Found Pinot Noir product-timed-pdf - Sonoma Mountain, Sonoma County - Exciting and Ready to Drink by MS Geoff Kruth

Why We're Drinking It

Lost & Found is the vision of Master Sommelier Geoff Kruth. As one of America's most respected wine professionals, Geoff brings to the winery a unique aesthetic and uncompromising commitment to quality. Along with consulting sommelier-turned-winemaker Megan Glaab, classic winemaking is celebrated with a "lost and found" approach from excellent vineyards.

Geoff Kruth and Megan Glaab met in 2006 when she came to work with him as a sommelier at the Farmhouse Inn and Restaurant in the Russian River Valley. They share a taste for elegant wines and simple but thoughtful winemaking.

Tasting Notes

From the Winery: While we normally release our Pinot almost two years after most single-vineyard wines hit the market, this selection was just too tasty to wait. Sourced from a cool, western-facing vineyard on Sonoma Mountain just at the end of the Petaluma Gap, this is the first of a series of wines we will be releasing from this exciting area. No need to cellar this easy-to-drink, super delicious young release. Van der Kamp and The Nines Vineyards on the cool western-facing side of Sonoma Mountain. Vinification was in open top tanks, whole cluster ferment with native yeasts. Aging was in 100% neutral French oak barrels
